

Volunteers make a vital and very personal contribution to our clients and their communities every day.

As one of Australia's leading not for profit in home care specialists, we provide a range of comprehensive health and aged care services in Western Australia (WA).

As a volunteer you can help our clients to stay connected and live well, making a lasting impact on their lives. Helping others can provide you with a sense of joy and purpose, just by knowing you can make a difference.

You can help today by providing social support, transport, explaining technology, helping with social activities in our Social Centres or with group outings, and providing companionship and respite care for people and their families receiving palliative care.

About this role

At Silverchain we provide our clients with door to door safe and reliable transport to ensure they can remain socially active and part of their community.

As a volunteer for our transport services, you can help our clients living in East and South Perth go to the places they want to go to. This might be attending their medical appointments, or visiting community clubs, family members, and friends.

In this role you will collect our clients from their home, take them to their outing, and make sure they are dropped off at home safely.

About you

In this role you will need to be available between 8.30am to 4.30pm on weekdays.

You need to be an experienced and safe driver with a current Australian drivers' licence to volunteer for this role.

You will also need access to a roadworthy car with a minimum third party insurance. We can reimburse some mileage costs.

In addition, all our roles require you to:

- be 18 years old and over
- complete a National Police check application (paid by Silverchain)
- be able to commit to a role for a minimum of six months.

COVID-19 vaccinations are not required, but are recommended in line with Silverchain's policy.

We are looking for people with great interpersonal skills, who can work independently, and like teamwork. Our roles are ideal for people who enjoy spending time with older people in the community.

As a Silverchain volunteer you will also share our values of respect, trust, and compassion for others.

Your hours are flexible to meet your needs, and you can also use them towards your Centrelink requirements.

Benefits of volunteering

There's no better feeling than seeing firsthand the difference you make as a volunteer to the lives of others.

By supporting others, you can also:

- meet people and make new friends
- connect and engage with your local community
- gain valuable community care experience
- boost your confidence and learn new skills
- take part in activities that improve your own health and wellbeing.

If you're unsure where you might best fit, talk to our team and they can work with you to match your skills and interests to our roles.
